
Bugs 1.0.1 & their solution

Posted by Brown - 2006/02/05 16:32

I found 2 bugs. Pls see these followings:

1) Search - Search string can 't give you a correct results. I have 2 records : "Land 215" and Land 564" in title and description. When submitting "Land" search, I've received only one result.

2) In Admin, if you check and save Hot Offer checkbox, it sets flag to 1 in database permanently. When you want to uncheck that Hot Offer property, you can uncheck and save but it will not write 0 to DB.

Good Work & Thanks

Hi,

for the 2. problem! All checkboxes has the same problem. :huh: I found the error in the file ?class.estateagent.php?. I ou uncheck a checkbox, the value off the checkbox is emty, but you need the value ?0?. Change in the file ?class.estateagent.php? the follow variables from null to ?0?:

var $lift = "0";
var $handicap = "0";
var $toheat_ufloor = "0";
var $fireside = "0";
var $aircondition = "0";
var $tv = "0";
var $dsl = "0";
var $balcony = "0";
var $terrace = "0";
var $swpool = "0";
var $garden = "0";
var $parkarea = "0";
var $garage = "0";
var $hot = "0";
var $publish = "0";
```

After this change, your checkboxes works right. :laugh:

Greeting from Switzerland
Bernhard

Great! It worked for me also. Congratulations again for this great component. However, isn't there a centralized place where I can see listed all important and known issues and existing patches (at least as links to forum articles like this)? I also had to look hard to find the patch for the 'Editing gallery images' and I would like to know in advance of other existing problems/solutions.

Hi

Is there any official solution for infamous line 70 in admin.estateagent.html.php? Its not possible to add new objects with error:

Warning: Invalid argument supplied for foreach() in /home/httpd/html/joomla/administrator/components/com_estateagent/admin.estateagent.html.php on line 70 displayed.

Thank you

maxa,
that line is processing the real estate objects in your EA (MA now) installation, so as to display them in a list. the error reported implies that something is wrong with the database...
I believe that the error you see is reported not only when you create a new object....

i believe that you are talking about this :
foreach($obj as $o) {

I also found a bug. I hope it has not been metioned here before, the forum search has not revealed anything.

When you use a database prefix like for example 'immo_' or something other than the standard 'jos_', the RSS Feed does not work.

To repair this, just edit the file 'rsscreator.php' which lies in the includes directory. In the line 188 should be something like:

'. " FROM jos_estateagent"
```

Change it to:

```
'. " FROM #__estateagent"
```

Then it should work with any database prefix.

Greetings, Karl

I think the galle ryManager(1.1.0) has a bug. when you upload images and link them to objects the list available images displays the names as many times as they have been assingd.

here is a screen shot of java script erros the gallery generates: <http://niya.nl/jserror.png>

I have made another post about it here:

http://www.misterestate.com/component/option,com_fireboard/func,view/Itemid,42/catid,9/id,6031/ does any one have the same problem?
