Availability field

I have installed ME and so far it is very close to what I am looking for.

One option however would certainly extend the usefulness.

I would love to see a "available per:" option in it. Just the possibility to click on a calendar button and select the date per which one would like to make the property available. Essential for renting/leasing of commercial housing, as well as for private renting.

Furthermore it would be nice to have the ability to choose search criteria for the extended search option. I can image this could be achieved by including checkboxes in the object specification section.

Yes, I agree. This would also be a very good option as well.
