Joomfish vs MisterEstate...HELP PLEASE

Posted by Monacchi - 2007/12/19 21:45

I have a real estate web site and I would translate all my property on my database in 2 language: italian (original) and english (to translate).

I'm using JoomFish ver. 1.8 to manage the translations and I have already download 2 files (categories.estateagent.xml, estateagent.xml) to translate component MisterEstate and I have put them in administrator/components/com_joomfish/contentelements/.

After translating a MisterEstate object (a property) I can see in the frontend correctly the object translated only in the list where there are more object like here

http://www.pegasusimmobili.it/index.php?option=com\_estateagent&act=cat&task=showCE&id=8&lang=english.

If I click on a object (for example the frist) to view the complete description, photos etc. I can't see the translation but I see the original text like here http://www.pegasusimmobili.it/index.php?option=com\_estateagent&act=object&task=showEO&id=13.

How can I solve this problem?

Please help me this is very urgent...

Regards

Marco - From Italy

Ciao Monacchi,

I've checked the links you sent, and set the site language to English - the translation seems OK to me.

In your second link, there is a variable missing (lang=english).

Truly yours,
