
JoomFish Frontend Translation

Posted by Ralph - 2008/06/25 23:27

Hi,

i have a question to core members and experienced users.
I would like to offer joomfish frontend translation to my registered users.
Do you see a chance for implementing this?
Or could you point me to a way to do this?
(The way it works with content.)
I searched a lot of hours without luck,
and i was reading sources for hours, too.

Best regards
Ralph Gerstmann

Hello Ralph,
I have a website with joomla 1.0.15 + Misterestate + Joom!Fish Version 1.8.2 installed and it works like a charm.
Basically there are flags user can click to change the default language or you can manage to automatic change languages referred to browser's user languages.

Anyway it's up to you to make translations in the backend.
Let me know if this is what you're searching for.
